His Resignation Asked
By Workingmen of Berlin.

BULLETIN

Copenhagen, March 19.—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of General Ludendorff and of Colonel Bauer, characterized as Ludendorff's "right hand man" says a dispatch to the Social Demokraten from Berlin today.

BULLETIN

Amsterdam, March 19.—Evidence that an extremely close guard has been placed by the Dutch government over former emperor William was obtained today. Police officers were detailed to follow him a few steps in the rear, and he walked about the garden of the Beutink Castle here.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Copenhagen, March 19.—Both Gustave Noske, minister of defense in the Ebert government and Dr. K. W. W. Heine, Prussian minister of the interior, have resigned, according to a dispatch from Stuttgart quoting the Hamburg Fremdenblatt.

Another message from Stuttgart states that at the conclusion of the national assembly's debate yesterday Konstantin Fehrenbach, president of the assembly, declared it was plain that all parties condemned the revolt. "We mourn the dead and convey our condolences to their dependents," he said. At this point the deputies stood up.

President Fehrenbach expressed the hope that the general strike would terminate quickly and that all the people would return to work.

Appeals to Army to Beat Bolshevism

Berlin, March 18.—General Von Seeckt, in command of the troops at Berlin, issued a proclamation to the army today in the name of the minister of the defense urging it "to stand together as before, against any attempt to establish Bolshevism." He asked the troops "to place the welfare of the fatherland before all other considerations."

Workmen Demand Resignation of Noske

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, March 19.—General Von Luetwitz is reported to have left Berlin by airplane and it was impossible to arrest him while the Iron Division was in the city says a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

Of greatest importance in the development of the situation is the attitude to be assumed by workers, says the dispatch. The general strike continues, and leaders of the socialist parties have formulated the following conditions for the resumption of work:

Gustave Noske, minister of defense in the Ebert cabinet and Dr. K. W. W. Heine, Prussian minister of the interior, must resign.

There must be extensive participation by workers in the new government and labor legislation must be introduced in the national assembly. These conditions are said to have been telegraphed to Stuttgart yesterday and it was reported in Berlin that the first stipulation had been fulfilled by Herr Noske leaving the ministry.

Brief Summary German Revolt

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Berlin is still under the rule of bayonets but troops loyal to the Ebert government patrol the streets. Forces which supported the regime set up last Saturday by Dr. Wolfgang Kapp and his followers, left Berlin yesterday.

Withdrawal of these soldiers, however, left chaos behind, as the rear guard turned against jeering crowds in Unter der Linden and fired, many citizens being killed and scores wounded. More bloodshed occurred near the parliament buildings, while in Charlottenburg and other suburbs clashes resulted in loss of life.

While radical elements have not made organized attacks on the capital, economic conditions are described as serious. The resumption of power by the constitutional government is opposed by those who believe it bargained with the reactionary leaders who tried to seize control, and there seems to be an urgent demand for a reorganization of the ministry and changes in policy in important particulars.

Reports from Germany outside of Berlin are of such a character that a clear view of the situation is hard to obtain at present. While it is said Soviets have been formed in a number of important towns and cities and in industrial districts, it does not appear the movement is gaining momentum.

Communist sympathizers seem to have met with stern opposition at many points.

clared adjourned tonight by its president, Konstantin Fehrenbach, to meet in Berlin on Tuesday next. The government decided to proceed to Berlin on Monday.

(This dispatch presumably embodies later decisions than those in Coblenz advices stating that the government would return from Stuttgart on Saturday and that the national assembly and Prussian diet would meet in Berlin on Sunday.)

Noske Ready to Quit

The majority socialist leaders here have demanded that Gustave Noske, minister of defense, resign. Noske has complied, but the government has not issued a decision as to acceptance of his resignation and will not do so until the cabinet has considered the question. Should Noske retire it seems probable he will be succeeded by General Von Seeckt, now in command of the troops in Berlin. Dr. Schiffer, minister of justice is being mentioned for the premiership in the proposed reorganized cabinet. Noske was present at the assembly session today when Philipp Scheidemann, majority socialist leader and former premier, attacked the minister of defense in a stirring speech and demanded the radical overthrowing of the cabinet.

Herr Henke, leader of the independent socialists asked Noske where he was when the Kapp forces had their hands at the governments' throat and why he did not "break their bones" but Noske by this time had disappeared from the chamber.

Representatives of all the principal parties delivered speeches condemning the Kapp movement and urging the punishment of the guilty.

DUTCH RUSH WORK ON EX-KAISER'S NEW "CHICKEN NET" JAIL

Holland is rushing final preparations for moving the ex-kaiser of Germany from Amsterdam to Doorn. Since the monarchist revolution and attendant fears of a Hohenzollern restoration, the allies have increased their demands that Wood-Sawer Bill be moved. Amersfoort, they contend, is so situated as to invite escape. The Doorn Castle, as shown in this photograph, just received from Holland, is surrounded with strong wire netting, designed to keep the kaiser in and intruders out.

SLOTHOWER IS IN FAVOR OF BOOSTING PAY

Says Firemen and Policemen Deserve an Increase.

Commissioner W. V. Slothower of the department of public health and safety is heartily in favor of granting the increase in salaries to members of the police and fire departments. He stated this morning that the men were highly deserving of the increase in order that they may be able to meet the increased living cost.

"We have good men on both departments and I do not believe that any other city can boast of a more efficient force of men on either the fire or police department. The increase would amount to about $2.00 yearly in the pay roll but every one of the men are entitled to receive a salary of $125 per month in order to live comfortably."

The commissioner, while highly in favor of the increase which will be asked by both departments, added that he could not say at this time just what action would be taken by the council with reference to the matter. This will doubtless be one of the more important subjects to be taken before the commission at its regular meeting next Tuesday evening.

The city of Belvidere a few days ago increased the salary of its fire and police departments to the same figure as granted by the Sterling council the first of the week.

To Get Conservator for Aged Amboyites

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Rossman, aged and respected residents of Amboy, who have lived in Lee county for upwards of 40 years, were in the county court before Judge Crabtree this afternoon at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of having a conservator appointed. Attorney William Leech of Amboy is representing the interests of the aged couple.

It is said that Louis Bishop, of Bloomington, a brother of Mrs. Rossman, came to Amboy some weeks ago and was instrumental in having Mr. Rossman sent to the county home to be cared for at the county's expense. Mrs. Rossman was taken to the Bishop home at Bloomington. She returned to Amboy yesterday to dispose of the home property where she and her husband have lived for many years. Attorney Leech became interested in the case and the sale has been called off. A conservator is to be appointed in the county court today and the aged couple will be allowed to return to Amboy and spend their declining days in their own home.

The couple have no children and it is said that they have been provided for by relatives who are financially able to care for them in their old age. Attorney Leech has secured the release of Mr. Rossman from the county home and brought him from that institution to Dixon this morning.

DECLARES PACT TO HUNGARY IS DEATH SENTENCE

Head of Commission in Interview with Associated Press.

Paris, March 2.—(By Mail).—The Hungarian peace treaty is a "sentence of death" Count Albert Apponyi, head of the Hungarian peace commission declared in the first of two articles he has given to the Associated Press.

The decision of the allies was based on one-sided information and Hungary never got a chance to present "the facts of her own problems from her own point of view," he says.

Analyzing the treaty he declares that it takes away from Hungary two-thirds of her territory and population and gives to what is left defenseless frontiers, everywhere open to hostile invasion. She is deprived, he says, of almost all her woodland, pasture ground, iron ore, shale, oil, gas, water power, and the greater part of her manufacturing establishments and best coal mines.

On the "improvised" bit remaining, he adds, the allies have laid to a large extent "the burden of the national debt contracted by the whole country before its mutilation and the further burdens" of "reparations."

Hungary was opposed to the war and Count Tisza, her prime minister objected to the ultimatum to Serbia, but she was dragged in by her allies, he says, in conclusion.

BLOWING OF SOAP BUBBLES OFFENSE IN ORPHANS HOME

Illinois Officials Get Report on Cruelty in Institution.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, March 19.—Blowing soap bubbles is an offense in the Illinois State Home for Soldiers' Orphans, where 333 children of war veterans are housed.

Miss Annie Hinrichsen, secretary of the department of public welfare found two small boys kneeling on a crack for punishment on a visit to the home yesterday.

"What did you do?" she asked. "Blow soap bubbles."

Miss Hinrichsen reported to her chief, Charles H. Thorne, that the boys had only three toys; that the play room for sick children was a cement "cell" in the basement, devoid of all furniture; that children suffering from contagious diseases slept in the same beds with those who were well, three to a bed; and that sick children including five year old twins, were found scrubbing the cement floors.

The hospital records show twice as many contagious disease cases each day as there are inmates in the home.

BRIDGE REPAIR TO BE STARTED IN NEAR FUTURE

County Superintendent of Highways L. E. Neighbour is in receipt of a communication from Contractor Shons of Freeport, relative to starting work on the repairing of the Galena avenue bridge. The contractor in his letter states that he has purchased all of the material necessary for the repair of the bridge and will begin work just as soon as the weather conditions will permit. The work will not be started as long as freezing weather continues, but the work of repainting the structure and proceeding with the repairs will proceed with the arrival of warm weather.

The contractor states that he has experienced some slight delay in securing prompt delivery of the steel to be used in repairing the bridge, on account of shipping troubles. This, however, will not hamper the work as it is expected that the steel will be on the ground in ample time to be used when it is needed.

The post also discussed the coming presentation of the moving picture "Illinois Boys in Action," which will be shown here in the near future.

U. S. PROTESTS AGAINST SALE GERMAN STOCK

Ruling of Reparation Commission Brings Remonstrance.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 19.—Strong remonstrances have been made by the American government against rulings of the Allied reparations commission that under the peace treaty, sale of certain German property in neutral countries, can be forced necessary to satisfy the initial payment of the German indemnity.

Under secretary Polk of the state department, writing today to Senator Henderson, democrat, Nevada, said "a further protest" was in preparation as such a construction of the treaty was contrary to an official interpretation exchanged between Germany and the Allied powers.

Mr. Polk's letter was in response to an inquiry by Senator Henderson regarding reports that Great Britain had requested that German property and all the rights of German citizens in electrical enterprises in South America be taken over by the commission and subsequently transferred to Great Britain as part of the indemnity due it by Germany.

Mr. Polk said the state department had no information as to this, but added:

"There has been received, however, certain information having relation to your inquiry to the effect that the Allied government represented on the reparations commission have advanced and provisionally adopted a construction of Article 235 which would demand payment by Germany of the initial 20,000,000 gold marks in any commodities, gold, ships or otherwise, which the reparations commission may desire; and in the exercise of such power the commission may require the sale of German property in neutral countries at least if in the form of credits or securities. Under such power it is possible that the sale to the reparations commission of the securities controlled by German corporation enterprises in South America might be required of Germany."

APPROVED

Washington, March 19.—The nomination of Bainbridge Colby to be secretary of state, which has been the subject of extensive hearings by the senate foreign relations committee, was favorably reported today by the committee without a record vote.

The committee's report generally was regarded as forecasting favorable action by the senate, although it was indicated that there probably would be considerable debate. Some republican members of the committee, it was understood, gave notice that they would reserve liberty of action when the subject came up in the senate.

Only a few minutes of discussion preceded the committee's decision. There was said to have been a general agreement that Mr. Colby's statement yesterday had made it unnecessary to call additional witnesses.

AGREE TREATY WILL FAIL ON VOTE TONIGHT

Prediction of Defeat is Practically Unanimous.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 19.—By a vote of 41 to 42 the senate refused to vote into the preamble a provision that the ratification should not be binding unless the president deposited it within ninety days after the senate acted.

The amendment was presented by Senator Brandegee, republican, Connecticut and was supported by 38 republicans and Senators Reed of Missouri, Shields of Tennessee and Walsh of Massachusetts, democrats, while Senators Cummins of Iowa, Jones of Washington and Townsend of Michigan, republicans, voted against it.

Senator Brandegee argued that a "time limit" should be placed on the president's action and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, administration leader, suggested that it was "improbable" that the treaty would get to the president or that he would deposit it.

Preamble Now Up.
The preamble is it then came up for final flight on ratification follows:

"That the senate advise and consent to the ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany concluded at Versailles on the twenty-eighth day of June, 1919, subject to the following reservations and understanding, which are hereby made a part and condition of this resolution of ratification, which ratification is not to take effect or bind the United States until the said reservations and understandings adopted by the senate have been accepted as a part and a condition of this resolution of ratification by the Allied and Associated powers and a failure on the part of the allied and associated powers to make objection to said reservations and understandings prior to the deposit of ratification by the United States shall be taken as a full and final acceptance of such reservations and understandings by such powers."

When debate on the question of ratification began there was a virtually unanimous agreement among senators that the treaty would fail and speakers on both sides sought to shift the blame for the outcome. It seemed likely that the session would run well into the night if the leaders carried out their plan to insist on a vote before adjournment.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, March 19.—Preparing for final vote on the ratification of the peace treaty the senate today adopted the modified reservation preamble under which affirmative acceptance of the reservations by the other powers would not be required.

The preamble provides that "failure on the part of the Allied and Associated Powers to make objection to said reservations and understandings prior to the deposit of ratification by the United States shall be taken as a full and final acceptance of such reservations and understandings by said powers."

The preamble was offered by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the republican leader, and accepted without a roll call.

Had Long Night Session

After a long night session devoted almost entirely to discussion and adoption of a new reservation declaring sympathy for self government in Ireland, the senate expected today to reach a final vote on ratification of the treaty.

The ratification resolution still was incomplete when the senators met for this session destined to become history. The session of the senate yesterday had been swept aside by the bitter controversy over the Irish qualification, rivaling in some aspects the long drawn out fight over the reservation to Article Ten, which was thrust forward unexpectedly in an unsuccessful effort at modification. Between the two, there was no time left for other than minor questions.

Others Not Required.
It was believed certain the ratification resolution would be so framed as not to require affirmative acceptance by other signatories to the treaty of the American reservations in order to complete participation by this country in the treaty's provisions. Such a course was agreed to by republican leader, Lodge, in the bi-partisan compromise negotiations.

Despite the fact that the democrats put forward and assisted in the adoption of the Irish reservation, senate leaders said today the line up on final ratification was not changed and many predicted the treaty would fail to receive the necessary two thirds majority. In that case a motion to reconsider will be made promptly, the republicans, hoping that some democrats will give assent to the pact after having reconsidered their objections to the reservations adopted by the majority. The final vote probably will not be reached until late tonight.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, March 19.—Caution on both sides of the market seemed to be governing traders in corn today to an unusual extent. Smallness of receipts and the unfavorable weather tended to prevent any radical setbacks in price. On the other hand, in view of the recent big advance, few dealers showed courage to work for a continued upturn. Opening quotations, which varied from 1/2¢ decline to an equal gain, with May 1.55 1/2, to 1.56 1/4, and July 1.49 1/2 to 1.50 1/4, were followed by numerous minor fluctuations but no decided change.

Oats like corn showed no pronounced drift either way. After opening 1/2¢ off to 1/2¢ advance, including July at 79 1/2, the market sagged a little and then scored slight gains. Previous were stronger but dull. Upturns coincided with a rise in foreign exchange.

WELCH-SHIPPERT WEDDING—

In an extraordinarily pretty home wedding on Thursday, March 18th, William V. Welch, of Spruce Lane farm, Amboy, gave his daughter, Sadie Emma, in marriage to Edward Irving Shippert, son of Mrs. Martha Shippert, of St. James. Rev. A. J. Meierhoff, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of Blairtown, Iowa, a former pastor at Eldena, Ill., and a close friend of both the bride and groom, read the service before a company of the relatives and friends. The ceremony took place at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The wedding party, with Miss Margaret Ollman, of Amboy, as maid of honor, and Chauncey Welch, the bride's brother as best man, took their places under a beautiful arch arranged in the doorway between the two parlors as the strains of "O Promise Me" were sounded. Just preceding the ceremony Miss Goldie Albright, of Eldena, sang, "I Love You Truly," with Mrs. Charles Kearney, of Dixon, playing the accompaniment.

The color scheme for the wedding and house decorations was in coral and white and carnations beautifully carried out the colors in the decorations. The gowns of the bride and her maid of honor were also in the chosen colors. The bride was very lovely in coral-colored satin and Georgette and her flowers were pink roses and narcissus. The maid of honor was gown in white Georgette and carried pink and white carnations.

Following the congratulations and the inspection of the bride's many beautiful gifts, a three-course wedding luncheon was served, with Mrs. Mahlon Kent, of Amboy, in charge. Four friends of the bride, Miss Anna Miller, of Amboy, Miss Goldie Albright, of Eldena, Miss Kathryn Johnson, and Miss Frances Lally, of Dixon, assisted in the serving. A feature of the dinner was the beautiful cake with the prophetic ring, thimble, and coin, which fell respectively to the lot of the bride's sister, Miss Emmeline Welch, home from Western Union college, LeMars, Ia., for the wedding, to Mr. Welch, the bride's father, and to Miss Frances Lally. Miss Lally was also fortunate in catching the bride's bouquet as the latter was leaving for the train.

The happy couple left on the 6:50 train for Chicago the bride wearing a traveling costume in brown, and after an extensive trip they will return to make their home after April 1st on a farm on Route 3, Franklin Grove.

The bride is a most attractive and accomplished young woman and is the possessor of many friends. Mr. Shippert is a prominent and successful young farmer. They are the recipients of the best wishes of scores of friends.

The guests at the wedding from out of town included: Mr. and Mrs. John A. Borncamp, of Evanston, the latter the groom's sister; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kearney and Miss Frances Lally, of Dixon; Misses Margaret Ollman and Anna Miller, of Amboy; Miss Goldie Albright, of Eldena; Miss Emmeline Welch, of LeMars, Ia., and the Rev. A. J. Meierhoff, of Blairtown, Ia.

violin solos, with Miss Gladys Frye rendering the piano accompaniment. Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Walter were guests at the meeting and Mr. Walter addressed the class briefly in a most interesting talk.

CHANGING CODES

The passing of the double code, if indeed its end is in sight, which imposed purity upon women more strictly than upon men, is but one phase of a larger change. For this code was balanced by another, which imposed courage upon men more strictly than upon women.

Taken together they reflect a simpler and a ruder age (more or less free from social diseases) in which men were in the saddle and fought each other face to face for the possession of wives and children. From the standpoint of racial survival this differentiated code worked fairly well, for a family might get along if the husband beat off intruders and the wife or wives were faithful to him. If the man was a coward he might get no wife in the first place, or a better man might take her from him; while on the other hand, there was no strong hand to defend the nameless children of a loose woman.

Thus it happened men could be loose but not cowardly, while women could be timid but not loose.

But social disease has changed the picture in one way, and the formation of large states and the establishment of civil order and a factory system have changed it in another.
For now patient industry and industrial enterprise have partly taken the place of physical strength and military courage, and in much of the man's work of today women can often play an equal part with men.

And very much the same is true of even warfare itself, with all its complex modern machinery, where one may not come within many miles of his most destructive foe,
where the munition worker or the farmerette may count as much as the soldier, and where nurses and other women aides may be placed well within the danger zone. In a great modern war women are essentially combatants, and not mere helpless prizes of victory.

So the old order passes away, and women get a hearing when they demand that the law imposed upon them should be imposed as rigorously upon men.

A COMMUNITY BANK

A national bank in an eastern city of about 70,000 population has announced its intention of helping the community overcome the shortage of houses. This institution, although admitting that it is not usual for a national bank to make such loans, nevertheless considers it quite permissible and offers to advance $500,000 to aid housing construction.
It is doubtful if the plan would pass muster under the restrictive state laws in Illinois.

The plan calls for a loan on the part of some local savings bank, and also requires the builder to have a savings deposit of $1000. The men who have originated the project believe that it will cause $1,250,000 to be put into the early construction of homes and that it will make possible the building of about 250 one and two-family dwellings.

These houses are to be built for speculative purposes. They are to be put up by the persons whose families are to occupy them.

This bank's chief object is public service. In a statement explaining the plan it says, "We do not know of any better way to be of service and help in this community than to use the money that has been saved here, belongs here, and should be invested here, for the benefit and happiness of those who saved
it. The money which will be used for this purpose is yours, and held by us as your trustees, to be invested wisely for your account, and we know of no better investment of those funds than in a home of your own,
for yourself and family."

IGNORANT DISTILLERS

Discovery of an illicit still, the worm of which was made of ordinary lead pipe, brings the statement from medical authorities that those who partake of the product of this booze machine are in grave danger of death from lead poisoning. The making of distilled liquor is unsafe except by those acquainted with the laws governing the chemical changes involved. The distillation of an active, deadly poison is just as likely as not if ignorant. Those who try to manufacture their own alcohol have about as much chance of surviving their concoctions as they would have if they entered a chemical laboratory and started drinking indiscriminately from the bottles and flasks on the shelves.

UNCLE ICHABOD—HE BEGS TO DIFFER

"It really don't eventuate."
Says Uncle Ichabod,
"Because minds differentiate
That either of 'em's odd.
The big men of the universe
Don't totally agree,
And I don't think 'em none the worse
For differin' from me."

"Now Baptist John when times was tight
And he was short of money,
He exercised his appetite
On locusts and wild honey.
Perhaps he had the proper hunch,
But I have always said
I don't like locusts for my lunch
Without a piece of bread"

"Nobody ever got the hook
On Socrates, till he,
In his declin' year—he took
To drinkin' hemlock tea.
Now tho' I have a love for Soc.,
Which reaches to my boots,
I'll say I never took much stock
In them there substitutes."

"Before Napoleon went to bed
Beneath the weepin' willer,
He never used to lay his head
But four hours on the pillar.
Perhaps Napoleon was right;
Perhaps I hadn't orter;
But I most always sleep at night
Full four hours and a quarter."

"And Washington, when very young,
He sometimes come a cropper,
Because he had a twisted tongue
And couldn't tell a whopper.
I never let that put the lid
Upon my admirations,
Though, as for me, I never did.
Have no such aspirations."

"But I don't say, because my head
That folks should use my views instead,
Or take me for a model.
And other great men ('tain't no news)
Are just as broad;
I betcha they respect the views
Of Uncle Ichabod!"

MRS. LION MAKES A VISIT

Mrs. Lion came bounding on her errand to Mrs. Snake's hole in great excitement, and Nick and Nancy, safely hidden, watched eagerly to see what would come of it. They knew what Mrs. Lion had come for, in fact, their Green Shoes had hurried them on ahead on purpose so they could see the fun.
They didn't have to wait long, however, for as usual Mrs. Lion announced her arrival by a great roar, and Mrs. Snake stuck out her head instantly and said, How do you do, and that it was a nice day.
Mrs. Lion put on her sweetest smile, "Isn't it, though?" she agreed amiab-
ly. "The kind of a day one feels like being neighborly and obliging, don't you think so, Mrs. Snake?"
It was Mrs. Snake's turn to agree, though she seemed suspicious that something more than the weather had induced Mrs. Lion to be so friendly all

"Yes, it's nice weather," agreed Mrs. Snake, "although sometimes it's a bit cold."

at once, and when Mrs. Lion mentioned the word "obliging," she also had a pretty good idea as to the person who was to do it. It was a rare occasion when Mrs. Lion obliged anybody but herself.

"Yes, it's nice weather," answered Mrs. Snake, "although sometimes it's a bit cool."

Now she couldn't have said a worse thing for herself, or anything that suited Mrs. Lion better, than exactly that. Mrs. Lion smiled more broadly than ever and waved her tail. "Yes, it's cold here sometimes in Topsy-Turvy Land," she said, "but it must be still colder at home in the jungle, for they are wearing fur pieces and feather boas. It's all the style, I hear, and as I'm trying for a prize in the Beauty Show, I came to see if you'd help me out."
"Me?" exclaimed Mrs. Snake in surprise. And whether she did or not you shall hear tomorrow.

Uncle Sam

the prevention of disease. Address:

THE CORRECT POSTURE.

One of the first and most important rules of health is to assume the correct posture in walking standing and sitting.

Unfortunately, too many people are ignorant of, or disregard this rule and there is a tendency to assume the "athletic droop," or the "vampire slouch," especially among the younger people.

In the first place it is unhealthful.
The normal relations of the organs are disturbed. The circulation is impaired. The lungs are not given the opportunity to expand. The muscles are lax, notably the abdominal muscles and the functions of the liver, stomach and intestines are interfered with.
There is little doubt that continued faulty posture aggravates neurasthenia and some of the common ailments attributable to a displacement of the stomach and abdominal organs.
Nor is there any doubt that assuming the correct posture will be of very material aid in remedying a condition of this kind.

It seems strange, in this age, when people pride themselves on being well-

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

"Chrystobel is hypnotized? she is not dead? Are you sure, Bob? Be careful! Do not give me a false hope!" As he spoke Daddy Lorimer stooped over the stiff, straight body of his daughter and listened for the beating of her heart.

"Chryst has been thrown into some kind of a trance," Bob said, with his characteristic brevity, and as if that were the end instead of the beginning of all that could be said on the subject.

"Her heart is beating," Daddy exclaimed. "It is slow—and faint—but even!" When he stood erect, I perceived that the sharp lines of grief which had made him look so old when he entered the room had changed, but his new expression was not one of relief. His face was distorted with rage.

"Who has done this terrible thing? And why?" he demanded.
Bob ordered the frightened maid out of the room, then he quieted several members of the household who were trying to be helpful, but who were only making a useless commotion. When we three were alone at last we stood for a long time looking in awed silence at our Chryst who had been so suddenly turned to a sleeping beauty.

"Certeis has ordered this done, Dad," said Bob in a quiet voice which I recognized as ominous. "And Donna Camilla has obeyed his order. Jane knows—and I know that the aristocratic old woman who poses as the housekeeper here possesses a strange power over others. Just now we can't stop to explain how we know. Gather up your courage, Dad, I don't believe that old woman will let Chryst die in this state."

"But why—why—I ask you—why should our poor Chryst become one of that old hag's victims?" Daddy asked in his most indignant voice.

"Chryst things she is in love with Certeis. She has acted almost silly about him all evening. I suppose you couldn't help seeing," Bob explained.

Daddy nodded.

"Perhaps you didn't observe that Certeis was embarrassed by her devotion. Plainly, he isn't wildly enamoured of his bride."

Daddy caught the idea, he and Bob exchanged a long look and finally daddy spoke:

"Send for Certeis!"

I am sure that most persons live through the unusual and extraordinary experiences of their lives without realizing, until long afterward, how dramatic the events really were. There's romance in every existence, but the normal human being takes his individual career very simply. It is only when he sees it reflected on the stage or in the movies that he perceives that the occurrences in his own life often equal or surpass those pictured in fiction.

Such a dramatic moment had come to the Lorimers who waited by the bedside of Chrystobel for the coming of her husband.

More than once I started to speak, but remained silent, because what I had to say seemed absurd. Nevertheless, in my own heart, I knew it to be true. I knew that although Hamilton Certeis was a political intriguer, he could give many an honest man a lesson in a lover's loyalty.

Certeis loved me with a steadfastness seldom equaled by any man. Archconspirator though he was, he would not be a traitor to his love for me.

And that was why he had made it impossible for his own wife to manifest her affection for him, that was why he had placed her where she could make no demands upon him!

I did not say what I thought. Bob would never understand, and Daddy would think me insane. But as Dr. Certeis entered the room I knew that not often—perhaps never before—had a similar drama been enacted.

I clung to my husband's arm and rejoiced to feel it creep around me and hold me close.

NEWBERRY CASE WENT TO JURY LATE THURSDAY

Large Number of Possible Verdicts in Famous Case.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Grand Rapids, Mich., March 19.—The jury charged with deciding the innocence or guilt of Truman H. Newberry and 41 co-defendants on trial here for eight weeks for alleged violation of the election laws, resumed its deliberations at 9 o'clock this morning. The case was passed to the jurors late yesterday and an hour later they were excused for the night by Judge Clarence W. Sessions.

Owing to the large number of verdicts that might be returned, there was much speculation as to the amount of time the jurors might require to render their decision. Of the six counts in the indictment—only two remained—the first charging criminal conspiracy to procure the nomination and election of Newberry as United States senator in violation of state and federal election laws and the sixth, charging use of the mails to defraud.

Instructing the jury, Judge Sessions said verdicts of guilty or not guilty on either or both of the counts might be brought in as to all the defendants but that a return on each of the defendants would be necessary if the verdict differed as to individuals.

Washington, March 18.—Bainbridge Colby made an extensive statement to the senate foreign relations committee today regarding the information on which the committee is delaying action on his confirmation as secretary of state. Those present maintained the silence which has surrounded all previous hearings on the subject, but it was said the nominees would not be asked to appear again. The committee will meet again tomorrow.

Mr. Colby declined to talk about the matters discussed. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska said he considered Mr. Colby's statement "a complete knock-out for the opposition."

Crescent City is Quiet Second Day Allied Occupation

Constantinople, March 18.—The second day of the inter-allied occupation of Constantinople, carried out on Tuesday by large forces from the imposing war fleet in the Bosphorus, passed with entire calm. The Turkish police co-operating in keeping order. Only small detachments of allied soldiers are visible in the streets. The French and the Italians had only small forces here and they are far less active than the British troops which are excellently organized. Among the prisoners taken were Essad Pasha, nationalist leader, and Mohammed Pasha, who was minister of war just before the Great War opened and has been the chief organizer of the propaganda for an American mandate. The Turkish newspaper and the foreign office are so heavily censored that it is impossible to obtain the authoritative Turkish view of the situation. The Turks, with whom, the correspondent spoke, however, were free in declaring their opinion that Constantinople was about to repeat the history of Cairo, that the British would remain in Turkey as they had in Egypt. Meanwhile the French and English newspapers here are featuring Paris and London dispatches which allege the expectancy that the United States will assume responsibility in restoring order in the near east. The general opinion expressed among Americans here in touch with near east conditions is that the occupation was prompted more by political than humane motives.

Hoover Gives His Views on Covenant

New York, March 18.—Herbert Hoover, in a statement today, advocates early ratification of the peace treaty "so long as the final form gives us freedom of action and room for constructive development for peace," and with reservations which "should satisfy the most timid as to entanglements." The statement was issued, it was explained, in response to a request of the Washington Star, for his views on the subject. Mr. Hoover expressed the belief that the reservations "do not destroy the possibility of the creation of a potent organization to mitigate the dangers in front of us and 'the alternatives are a continuation of our state of war for another year or the unthinkable thing, for we do make a separate peace after we have gone so far as to agree on its main lines with comrades-in-arms.'" Despite the feeling of President Wilson and his associates that the strength of the league is somewhat undermined by the reservations, Mr. Hoover expressed the opinion "they also should accept them. Due to the 'unsettlement and other causes that the league would mitigate' he continued, "the world is steadily drifting back to a worse state of international antagonisms than existed before 1914. The naval strength of every great nation, except the enemy and Russia, has been increased during the war. Many great armies have been demobilized yet the world is again engaging in preparedness and the actual number of men under arms

Have You Given Up?

Are you one of the 85% of men over 65 years old who have given up, and are waiting for the end? There is no reason for any man or woman to sit in a corner and give up the pleasures of life—the joy of living—the social and business activities that make life worth while. In middle life and old age the cells of the body are not reconstructed as rapidly as in youth. The cell-salts so abundant in the rich red blood of youth are insufficient in the blood of older people. The heart action slows down, the circulation of the blood slackens, the blood lacks a sufficient supply of vitalizing oxygen and the organs of the body fail to function. The body in youth possesses more heat than in middle life or old age. That's because there is an abundance of cell-salts in the blood when the body is young—and the blood is rich in oxygen which burns up and eliminates the waste tissues and worn out cells. In youth the quick hot blood urges to action and the body renews itself quickly. As we grow older we slow down, sit in a sunny corner and give up. We fail to learn the lessons of life and weakly surrender to fear, worry and imaginary diseases that are merely Nature's cry for the natural cell-salts that she must have to keep the body strong and vigorous, and the life-giving oxygen that burns up the worn out cells and vitalizes the blood, making the entire body glow with health and energy. REOLO has remarkable tonic and reconstructive qualities. It supplies to the thin, inactive, impoverished blood the natural cell-salts, iron and oxygen that the body must have to keep well and renew itself. Try the systematic REOLO Treatment for six weeks and you will be delighted with the steady improvement in your strength, energy and mental activity. The large package of 100 tablets, sufficient for two weeks' treatment only costs $1.

NOT A MUSIC SLACKER IN THE BIGELOW CLAN

But What Do the Neighbors Have to Say About It?

THE BIGELOW FAMILY—WHEN ALL IS HARMONY

Toledo, O.—Everything is harmony in John Bigelow's family. There isn't a music slacker in the clan. Age and youth do their part to make this Toledo family the most complete and largest family of musicians in the country. While the father, John Bigelow, beats the bass drum, daughter Georgetown 6 plays the snare drums. And between these extremes in age range the rest of the household playing French horns, baritone, alto, cornets, slide trombones and a dozen other different kinds of instruments. The Bigelows play with the ease and accomplishment of professional musicians. Offers on lyceum and vaudeville circuits have been turned down by the father because of his aversion to commercializing the talent of his children. When the oldest son, Jack Harvey, showed promise as a baritone player in a kid band in Bowling Green, O., 15 years ago the father went "music mad," as he says. He bought $4000 worth of instruments and fitted out the whole family from oldest to the youngest, including the mother. Here are the family members and the instruments they specialize on: John, bass drum; Jack, 26, cornet player and leader; Della, 23, cornet; Georgia, 21, baritone; Harry, 19, alto and French horn; John Jr., 18, slide trombone; Edith, 14, alto; Josephine, 11, cornet; Virginia, 7, drums; Mrs. Jack Bigelow, vocalist; Georgetown, 6, drums, and Mrs. John Bigelow, alto. today is much larger than before 1914. * * * No moderating influence can be set up until we came to conclusion and join the league that was created on our inspiration and upon which the entire theme of settlement—our real hope of a better world—revolves. "The president seems to feel that the foundations of the league rest upon our participating subject to approval of congress on use of force, in an obligation to preserve the territorial independence of its members against aggression. Without entering upon this method of prevention of aggression, I believe a great foundation of peace does lie in the continuous functioning of a body of great international representatives sitting outside the pettiness of day to day international relations engaged upon conciliation, the mitigation of antagonism, the very effective boycott of disturbers through arousal of a public opinion against them and through all

A Man to Man Policy that Wins

THE Standard Oil Company was a pioneer in the petroleum industry. From the day of its organization to the present moment the Company has put forth every effort to make and sell goods of the highest quality and always has been satisfied to work on a small profit. It has made money for its 4711 stockholders by reason of the volume of business done. In its dealings with the men and women who make up its working organization, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has maintained a policy of fairness and liberality which has held its men and inspired them with the high ideals of service which have been the key to its prosperity. Today the 22,000 employees are working as one man to increase production and decrease the cost of manufacture and distribution, for they know that their every effort is appreciated in terms which are substantial. The working and living conditions of the men and women employed by the Company always have been matters of major interest to those in authority. Under the plan now in process of organization, the employees will be given an ever-increasing voice in the management of their affairs. The spirit of fairness which animates both the Company and its employees, in their relations with one another, has again proved that all that is needed to increase production and insure industrial peace is to make it possible for the employer and employee to sit down and discuss all phases of their problems man to man.

Gopher Delegates Will Be Divided

St. Paul, Minn., March 18.—Complete reports compiled today from the republican conventions in 86 counties yesterday show that 52 counties decided not to formally endorse a candidate for president; 27 counties instructed their delegates to cast their votes for Leonard Wood at the state convention here Saturday; five counties endorsed Governor Frank O. Lowden, and the other two went to Hiram Johnson. Comparison of the county convention reports with the reports from the presidential preference primary held Monday shows that Wood received a majority of the delegates in the counties which voted to send untrusted delegates to the state convention and to the district conventions. Campaign managers for Leonard Wood declared today that the fact that county conventions did not formally instruct their delegates to the district and state conventions would not have any effect upon control of the district and state conventions. St. Paul, Minn., March 18.—Returns from eighty-four of the 86 Minnesota republican county conventions, held yesterday showed that fifty of the conventions elected untrusted delegates to the district conventions to be held Friday, and to the state convention which will take place here Saturday. In 27 counties the delegates were instructed for Wood. Lowden was endorsed in five counties and Johnson received two delegations. The missing counties are Cook and Clearwater where wire communication was interrupted. Hennepin county (Minneapolis) decided not to instruct its delegates while Ramsey county (St. Paul) endorsed Wood.

Dalrymple's Power Further Curtailed By Higher Official

Chicago, March 18.—Prohibition agents under direction of Major A. V. Dalrymple, district commissioner for the central states are relieved of all power except to locate contraband liquor by an order issued by John P. Kramer, national prohibition supervisor, shortly before his departure for Washington last night. Mr. Kramer directed that the prohibition sleuths should make no searches or seizures without the approval of the district attorney; that they should obtain warrants from the United States commissioner before making raids; that they should be accompanied by a United States marshal on all raids and that confiscated liquor should be placed in custody of the marshal and not held in Dalrymple's office or warehouse. The new order is one result of Major Dalrymple's clash with federal and state authorities at Iron River, Mich., recently. Mrs. Etta Demarest, Albert Demarest, Mrs. Charles Mensch, and Miss Carrie B. Swarts attended the funeral services for the late Mrs. James P. Wilson at the Presbyterian church in Polo last Thursday. Mrs. Ethel Roberts, of Chicago, is assisting as trimmer at the Hess millinery.

LEONARD WOOD For President

YOU are asked to do this, not by your vote for delegates but by recording your judgment so that the country may know what you think. Stripped of all else, this is the meaning of the Illinois Primary this time, so far as the country is concerned.

Now stop and think what manner of man should have your voice in such a time as this—perhaps the most trying time in our history—the world seething with unrest, suspicion, bitterness—a time of danger. Is it not true that we need a man in whose steadfastness of purpose, in whose steadfastness of mind, and in whose courage we can trust? Do we want a politician merely—or do we want a man as much like Lincoln and Roosevelt as we can get? A man fearless and honest; a man whose character stands out as a strong, earnest, understandable American. A man who has done things. A man who is unafraid. A man who knows what he wants to do and then does it. If you agree with this—then you will give your voice and vote for Leonard Wood because you know what kind of man he is and what he has done. He is more than a soldier—he is an executive; an administrator; an organizer and a statesman. He has proved his constructive ability. Now stop and think what manner of man should have your voice in such a time as this—perhaps the most trying time in our history—the world seething with unrest, suspicion, bitterness—a time of danger. Is it not true that we need a man in whose steadfastness of purpose, in whose steadfastness of mind, and in whose courage we can trust? Do we want a politician merely—or do we want a man as much like Lincoln and Roosevelt as we can get? A man fearless and honest; a man whose character stands out as a strong, earnest, understandable American. A man who has done things. A man who is unafraid. A man who knows what he wants to do and then does it. If you agree with this—then you will give your voice and vote for Leonard Wood because you know what kind of man he is and what he has done. He is more than a soldier—he is an executive; an administrator; an organizer and a statesman. He has proved his constructive ability. By Associated Press Licensed Wire
Chicago, March 19. — The resignations of Major A. A. Sprague, chairman and organizer of the Illinois Fair Price Commission, and Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, head of the woman's division of the commission today were in the hands of Howard Fyge, national price commissioner at Washington. The resignations are to take effect April 1. Officers of the Women's State Fair Price organization joined with Mrs. Bowen in sending a blanket resignation to Washington.

Major Sprague gave as his reason for his retirement a desire to give his attention to personal affairs. Both he and Mrs. Bowen declared that means provided by the government were inadequate to carry on the work of the commission.

Failure of the government to appropriate money for the Fair Price Campaign, Mrs. Bowen said, was responsible for the withdrawal of the organization heads. She also declared her opposition to the plan for a "cheap meat week" characterizing it as a scheme fostered by the packers. Such a movement Mrs. Bowen said drive the prices of the cheaper cuts of meat higher.

"Gobs" On Reserve List Ordered to Be Ready for Call

Lee county young men who served in the navy during the world war and who are now members of the naval reserve force have received communications from Rear Admiral F. B. Bassett, informing them they are to hold themselves in readiness for two weeks' service on a vessel any time after July 1. The letters stated that the bureau of navigation would not approve of substituting any other duty for the thirty-six drills a year required by law.

There are a large number of ex-seamen here and in the surrounding country who have been called upon to perform this service.

Upon expiration of their enrollment of four years, all men except those in class 4, who did not see any active service during the war, will be given an opportunity to enlist in the naval reserve force. These enlistments may be kept up until the sailor has served for twenty years. Ordinary seamen will then receive a cash bonus of $320 from the government and chief boatswain's mate $360.

Men in the naval reserve are permitted to join any other kind of military force without first receiving a discharge. Many of the men in the reserve did not receive their retainers' pay upon entering the service, due to the heavy enlistments, but Admiral Bassett informed the Lee county men in their communications that the lists were being checked over and every man would receive his pay within the next few months.

Accidents arising from the fact that rural route carriers are required to cross to the left-hand side of the road to deposit mail in the boxes along the way, have given rise to agitation that all boxes should be placed at the right-hand on the road in the direction in which the route man makes his trip.

Many route men have been run into when they turn out to the left to place the mail in the box and the government has set the above plan as a means of preventing such accidents. By having the boxes uniformly placed

100-lb. sack Granulated Sugar, today only. $19.00

It looks as though Sugar will be scarce and high this summer. We have had plenty of promises concerning Sugar the last four months, but the price is gradually soaring again just the same. A sack of Sugar in the house will likely be far better than all the promises you can read about.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

A NEW IDEA.
CHAPTER 89.
After Robert left I thought of his last remark, and the change in his voice. His "Golly, I believe it could be done!" had been animated, full of conviction. Then his "Perhaps I might do something along that line" had been hesitant, no conviction in his tone. It was almost as if he had said, "I won't even try."
As the days passed Robert really seemed to have taken a new hold upon himself. He went out but little, and I did not question him. One night he came in about 10 o'clock, and said carefully:
"I stayed down and helped the boss tonight."
"Going through stock mostly. I had told him he needed some things, that people were constantly asking for articles he did not carry, or had let out run. Then we rearranged the place, made it look more attractive and business-like."
"Whose idea was that?"
"Oh, I just said the goods weren't displayed to good advantage and the old duffer told me to go ahead and fix them. I guess he hasn't made much money lately. No wonder, with his antiquated methods."
As Robert talked, a thought came to me—a thought so almost impossible of fruition that I dared not give it words. If I should give up my position, put Robert on his mettle because of that, would he come back? Had Mary been right all along, and had the lack of a home of his own, the knowledge I learned more than he did, been a deterrent to his ambition? Had I helped pull him down with my success?
It hardly seemed possible, but the thought had taken deeper root than ever before because of the animation Robert had shown for the first time in months. Had the close intimacy of the little flat, in lieu of a boarding house or restaurants, been a factor in this change? Had the plain, well-cooked food anything to do with it?
It is hard for a business woman to conceive that her ability and earning power may be a stumbling block to the man she loves, especially if she is willing to share a common purse. Never had I spoken of MY money, or MY salary, in a way to offend Bob. I had paid things very quietly so he wouldn't be hurt by the knowledge. I had tried in every way—even after I lost faith in his acumen—not to ob-

Expert Analysis of Free Delivery
Our wagons cost us $27.00 each day, divided between five wagons, or $5.40 each wagon.
If the wagons average 54 orders each day the cost is about 10c an order. But many days some of the wagons deliver over a hundred orders.
The success of the free delivery is volume of trade, and does not cost any customer any time as much as one cent—because with less business our per cent for doing business would be higher and your goods would cost you just as much called for as now delivered.
Dixon's Commercial Club is for the advancement of all Dixon and service is the one best bet for advancement in any city, so please see that you throw your trade into the channels of free service, creating volume there so as to keep up the standard of the few real up-to-date stores left here in the grocery business and continue to hear from the people in our surrounding towns the regret that their towns have not as good grocery stores as Dixon.

Herzog played in a new steel harness because of a hernia suffered since the Cubs started spring training at Pasadena, Cal. Upon his showing in yesterday's practice session, it had been announced, depended whether Herzog immediately underwent an operation or attempted to play through the season strapped in the truss.
